TAKE UP PLANS FOR HOSPITAL

Committee Meets at Parish
House Discussing New
Catholic Institution

Preparations for launching a campaign toward development of the new Ogden hospital are being rapidly completed. At a committee meeting held yesterday evening at the parish house of Mr. P. M. Cushman, V. G., the necessity of immediate action to provide entirely adequate hospital facilities in Ogden was discussed. The point was brought out that while Ogden has one excellent hospital, the St. Mary's, an addition has been completed this year for that institution, it is not sufficient for Ogden's needs.

MAYOR ATTENDS LEAGUE SESSION

City Officials of State Assembly at Salt Lake in Annual Convention

Mayor Frank Francis and City Engineer Joseph M. Tracy were among those who attended the initial session of the State Municipal League yesterday in Salt Lake and took prominent part in the discussion of municipal affairs.

Proposed constitutional amendments to be voted upon November 2 and recommendations to the legislature as to legislation affecting municipalities, are being compiled at the convention, and presented to the people and the legislature with recommendations.

The convention was to meet at 10 o'clock this morning in order to insure completion of the two days of program. In addition to discussions by the members of the organization, the proceedings were interspersed yesterday with statements of numerous municipal problems.

While the general attitude of the convention toward the proposed amendments appeared to be favorable, especially toward the proposed home rule amendment which would provide charter government for all cities, recommendation relative to the amendments was deferred until today.

Mayor LeRoy Dixon of Provo, vice chairman of the league, presided at the convention and delivered the opening address yesterday morning. He explained the purpose of the organization to be that of lending assistance to the legislature and the people of the state in solutions, through state-wide action, of municipal problems with which the municipalities have not power singly to cope. Briefly he recited successes achieved in the past.

A short address of welcome was delivered by Mayor Nelson of Salt Lake, in which he urged the elimination of government lines to a degree which would permit concerted action by the people of all cities and counties upon problems that are common to all localities in the state. He deplored the injection into municipal affairs of political questions having no local significance, arguing that politics were better kept out of municipal government in so far as local interests are concerned.

A comprehensive explanation of the four proposed constitutional amendments was made by Attorney James H. Wolfe of the attorney general's office, and a general discussion was led by City Attorney W. H. Folland of Salt Lake.

Mayor J. W. Peters of Brigham City told of the close cooperation with the city manager form of government, his report being favorable. He deplored the fact that the success of the experiment is secured to the community only through city ordinance.

A paper on changes in election laws was read by H. Warren Smith, deputy city recorder of Salt Lake, and the rest of the time of the convention was taken up by a discussion of special improvements and kindred technical problems.

OGDEN DOCTOR GETS RADIUM

Remarkable Mineral Acquired For Treatment of Ogden Patients

Radium—that wonderful mineral with the remarkable powers of healing, in addition to being wonderfully expensive at three and one-half millions of dollars an ounce—has found its way into Ogden for the first time. The initial consignment of the mineral made its debut in Ogden yesterday when Dr. E. P. Mills, Ogden surgeon and physician with offices in the Lewis building, received two tubes, containing approximately twelve and one-half milligrams of real radium.

The mineral, which is contained in tiny alloy steel needles of special construction, will be used by the Ogden physician in the treatment of the many diseases which radium has effected cures. The mineral is particularly valuable, Dr. Mills said, in cases where operation is impossible, but where the tiny needles can be used to advantage in reaching the affected organs of the body.

STARTS TREATMENT. In the majority of cases, however, it was explained that no injection of the mineral is necessary, and the use of the mineral is gained simply in placing the needle in a rubber tube and applying it to the portion of the body which has been attacked by disease. Although the radium arrived only yesterday, the physician explained that he already is treating a patient who is suffering from goiter by application of the tube to the neck.

LOCKED IN NEEDLES. The radium in its raw state cannot be seen for the reason that it is locked within the steel needle which filters out certain rays. The needle is contained in a brass tube which eliminates other rays and the needle with its brass covering is kept within a lead bottle. The rays, however, are always radiating and no metal discovered so far can withhold their entire penetration, it was said.

The big bulk of the radium contained in the world comes from the mines of eastern Utah and western Colorado. It takes approximately two tons of radium ore to extract one milligram. There is no more than five grams of radium in the entire world.

One gram of radium, Dr. Mills said, will give off two-million rays each second of time for 1,700 years. At the end of this period the gram will be reduced but one half in its power.

The velocity of radium rays is ten times that of light.

Dr. Mills will keep his radium tubes in a safety deposit box during the periods they are not in use.

FOUR HELD FOR ROBBING STORE

Police Capture Quartet for Alleged Burglary at Rock Springs

In an arrest which included an attempted escape on the part of one of the prisoners, the police captured yesterday a quartet of men who confessed, the officers said, to robbing a store at Rock Springs Sunday night.

Captain Robert Burk and Detective Robert Chambers set out yesterday to seek trace of burglars who entered a store in Provo Saturday. Second-hand stores of the city were notified to keep a lookout for the goods stolen from Provo.

The police were informed that a man was trying to sell two suits of clothes at a Lincoln avenue. Detective Robert Chambers responded to the tip and took Marvin M. Miller into custody. Miller had a suit case full of clothes, it is said.

Detective Chambers headed for the station, when his prisoner jerked loose and ran. Two men seized him after he had run east on Twenty-fifth street for nearly 100 yards. He was handcuffed and taken to the city jail.

Later, Detective Chambers arrested T. J. Gleason, while the latter was trying to sell a suit. The two men confessed that they had robbed a store in Rock Springs, Sept. They implicated two others in the robbery, and Detective Chambers and Patrolman Lewis went to the Oxford hotel, where they arrested the two boys, Jack Martin and Ernest Barrett.

Martin, it is alleged, is Theodore Whitmore, who escaped from the Nevada reformatory at Elko three months ago on his parole with Joe Bell, a boy who was serving time for complicity in an automobile theft which resulted in the killing of a sheriff and the wounding of a deputy.

The quartet are being held pending word from Wyoming authorities.

Waiter Is Held on Burglary Charge

Erving Cunningham, a waiter rooming at the Broom hotel, was arrested this morning charged with burglary. He is alleged to have been caught in the act of entering the room of Frank Alder in the same hotel.

Suspected of Provo Robbery; Arrested

Dressed in clothes which the police said answered a description of clothing stolen from Provo Sunday night, a white man was arrested yesterday afternoon and is being held at the city jail for investigation. He was attempting to sell a cache of cigarettes when arrested, it is said.

GIVE REPORT ON HIGHWAY WORK

Weber County Contributes Almost $40,000 in State Road Taxes

Weber county contributed $39,865.81 in state road taxes towards the sum of $115,538.34 for bonds for this county during the fiscal year ending November 30, according to compilations by T. J. Midgeley, chief deputy auditor.

The total expenditure on county roads during this period amounted to $3,424,148.69 and of this amount, counties of the state contributed $549,696.24 in the form of state road taxes. There was apportioned from the bond funds to the various counties, and to contingent, equipment and Lincoln Highway funds a total of $2,551,452.21. The Lincoln Highway association contributed $125,000 and the federal government on federal aid projects a total that year of $43,717.24.

The following tabulation shows the amount contributed in taxes from counties for the improvement of state roads within those counties in the fiscal year mentioned, and also the amount spent from the state road funds during the year in the respective counties.

Comparatively small balances on hand in the various county funds at the beginning and end of the fiscal year account for the difference between the sum of these two columns and the total disbursements on vouchers as stated above.

Cadet Officers to Be Selected Shortly

Officers for the four companies of cadets at the Ogden high school will be named for the 1920-21 seasons during the coming week, according to Lieutenant Ronald Every, in charge of military work at the institution.

More than 350 students of the school are members of the cadet corps. Of this number more than 275 have been completely equipped by the government with uniforms and shoes, and other equipment. Complete equipment for the remaining 75 cadets is due to arrive in Ogden from the east next week. Four companies of cadets are enrolled at the school and a band is now being organized for the corps.

Drill is on the program each morning, every cadet responding for this work at 8 a. m. Setting up exercises, bayonet drill and other drills are featured.

The cadets of the high school will take a trip to one of three places being considered by the government next summer, according to Lieutenant Every. The three places are Honolulu, the Presidio and Camp Lewis. A decision on the plans is expected from Washington within the next three weeks, it is said.

Dr. McKeever Talks To High Students

Dr. William A. McKeever of the University of Kansas delivered an address to the students of the Ogden high school today in his initial lecture of four scheduled for Ogden today. He arrived in the city shortly after 10 o'clock from the east and was met at the depot by Superintendent W. Karl Hopkins.

Dr. McKeever addressed the high school students on "What Is Your Measure?" He addressed the Ogden Rotary club at their weekly luncheon at the Weber club during the noon hour today.

At 3:30 today Dr. McKeever was to address the teachers of the various schools of Ogden at the Central Junior high school. This evening at the tabernacle he will speak on "The Young and Creative Democracy." This address will be given under the auspices of the Utah Federation of Women's clubs.
